The license agreement does not grant the right of property to Pragma product and its components. It grants only the right of use of program copy and its components in compliance with conditions specified in this agreement.

Basic principles

Depending on the license type, you are authorized to use all functionalities of the Program during a certain limited time period (trial) or unlimited time period (commercial). Among other things this means that there is no functional difference between trial and commercial versions of the Program, and you always know what exactly you have gained (will gain). Unless otherwise specified, the commercial license implies: unlimited lifetime, technical support without time limitation (e-mail), unrestricted right for updating (obtaining of new versions). We reserve to ourselves the right to define these conditions more exactly for each particular program and to specify them explicitly. However, changes are not applicable to the earlier purchased licenses.

Types of commercial licenses

Single User License - only one user is authorized to install the Program on not more than one computer. This license is available for home users only. Registration is required.

Multi-user License - the Program can be used by any number of users, but the Program is authorized to be installed on not more than specified number of computers. I.e., purchasing a license of this type you have to specify the quantity of the computers in service. Registration is required for each computer.

Concurrent Net License - the Program is authorized to be installed on a local network with unlimited number of workstations. This license may require that not more than specifying number of users can run document translation at the same time. Registration is required for one server installation only.

License distribution

Regardless of the license type, trial (received automatically) or purchased commercial, the same way of license distribution is used. We call it "online" license. With online license you can get a registration (activation) key for your Program when it is necessary, for example, at the first program start, after hardware reset or version updating. You can also save the obtained key and use it later. It is necessary to mention that you have access to other online services such as: online support, subscriptions and discounts for the following purchases.

Licensing control, transfer of licenses

For all license types (except concurrent one) a limited number of computers are specified on which installation of the Program is authorized. We trust our clients, however for fighting against pirates a certain monitoring scheme is used. Each obtaining of a key with online license is considered "activation". "Activation" is equivalent to the license usage on one computer. That is, we reserve to ourselves the right to disable key generation when your license exceeds a certain number of activations. We take into account possible "error" activations and other accidental factors, so you are permitted to make activations in a quantity, which is more than twice larger than the number of computers for the authorized installation.

Agreement cancellation

In case of non-fulfilment of one of the foregoing points Trident Software, Ltd. has a right to terminate this agreement unilaterally.

After the agreement cancellation User is obliged to stop product using and uninstall the program copy cleanly.

This license agreement applies to all updates given to User within the bounds of technical support.
